Lent begins Feb. 17 with Ash Wednesday

"Signs to Faith" point the way to us

Lent, our springtime period of renewal and focus on repentance and life in Christ, begins on Ash Wednesday, Feb. 17, with worship and the imposition of ashes at noon and 7:00 p.m. We will abstain from celebrating Holy Communion on this day of repentance and confession. Mid-week worship begins the next week, Feb. 24, at 7:00 p.m.

Our worship will be Evening Prayer, using in various weeks the Holden Evening Prayer setting, the setting in Evangelical Lutheran Worship, and a special setting led by the Senior Choir. Soup Suppers precede each midweek service (except Ash Wednesday), serving from 5:30 p.m. - 6:30 p.m.

Our Lenten mid-week worship will center on the theme "Signs to Faith." John, in his Gospel, says that he wrote about Jesus, told these stories, that they might be signs to us to help us believe. Each week we'll look at a sign that Jesus reveals which helps us better know God's plan for us, God's real will, and also better know the nature of God and so come to faith. Accompanying each sign each week will be a work of art, with the guidance of Jon Rondestvedt, which will visually help us see God in Jesus and so come to faith as well.

Boards and council members elected at Annual Meeting

Orientation and first board meeting Feb. 9

At the Annual Meeting of the congregation on Jan. 31 thirty people were elected to positions of leadership in the congregation, to the Congregation Council, our ten boards, and other standing committees. The first meeting of the new boards for 2010 is Tuesday, Feb. 9. Starting at 5:30 p.m., the boards will have pizza together, then a brief orientation at 6:15 p.m., and then break off to do planning for 2010. Council and board members newly elected will be installed at worship on Feb. 7 at second service.

Elected to the Congregation Council were: Tim Eklund, president; Carrie Duba, president-elect; Deanne Weber, secretary; David Neuger, treasurer and chair of Business Management; Keith

Prayer and Care Ministry

*Pray without ceasing.
1 Thessalonians 5:17*

Prayer Ministry

Gathered in the Word: Gathered in the Word - Mark the beginning of the season of Lent with a time of silence and prayer guided by a verse from Scripture. Meets Thursday, Feb. 25, 7 p.m. in the Fireside Room. All are welcome.

Prayer Chain: Prayer requests are welcome for any concern or thanksgiving. Requests are kept confidential and not included in Sunday morning prayers unless specifically requested. Contact Mary Cisar with a prayer request or to become a prayer chain volunteer: macisar@gmail.com or 663-1097.

Food for You, from the Spirit

Lent is a time when Christians have sought to deepen their life of faith through spiritual disciplines. Two of the simplest and most profound of these disciplines are prayer and Scripture reading. If these two are not a part of your daily life, this is a good time to begin. Consider these suggestions to help you get started.

1. Set aside a specific time and place for daily prayer and Scripture reading. Any quiet and comfortable spot will do. Allow fifteen minutes when others in the household are asleep or understand that you are not to be disturbed. Consider this daily appointment.
2. Prepare your place ahead of time: set a Bible or New Testament next to your chair. You may also want to include a small notebook and pen or pencil.
3. Follow a routine. Begin with a short prayer, the same one every day. Here is one: "Speak Lord, your servant is willing." Read a short passage from Scripture. Try Mark, our gospel for the present church year. Each day read a paragraph or two, pause to think about it, and then read it again. This time listen for a verse that seems to speak directly to you. Write that verse in your notebook and date it. Shut your eyes and pray, in response to the passage you read, to the verse you wrote out, or to something in your life. If words don't come to you, close with a simple memorized prayer, such as "Thy will be done." In Romans 8, Paul assures us that as we stumble through our prayers, the Holy Spirit "helps us in our weakness" and "intercedes with sighs too deep for words."

If for a time such a structure seems no more than lifeless routine, do not lose heart. Structure can relax and liberate your mind, heart, and spirit; it can see you through a difficult time. By submitting yourself to these disciplines, you have opened yourself to the work of the Holy Spirit, though you may not yet perceive it. The Spirit will help you hear God's voice speaking to you and will teach you how to pray, all in God's own time. Have faith—that meanwhile you are being nourished.

Bear one another's burdens, and in this way you will fulfill the law of Christ.

Galatians 6:2

Providing one-to-one care and encouragement

Blessed are they who mourn, for they shall be comforted.

Matthew 5:4

Looking and Listening for the Signs

"Go and tell John what you have seen and heard: the blind receive their sight, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, the poor have good news brought to them."

Luke 7:22

Finding a portage in the Boundary Waters can be a lesson in faith. Paddlers have to pay attention to the terrain of the lakeshore and to often subtle signs that will lead them to the trail that they will have to walk to get to the next lake. Sometimes conditions at the trailhead have changed or poor weather makes it a challenge to find the portage even if you're armed with good maps and experienced companions. In which case, you keep paddling with open eyes, patience, and trust that the portage is there - and with hope that once you find it, the portage will be short and flat.

Hebrews describes faith as the "assurance of things hoped for, the conviction of things not seen." (Hebrews 11:1) Paul says "...faith comes from what is heard, and what is heard comes through the word of Christ. (Romans 10:17)

The Christian life calls us to be attentive to what God is saying and what God is doing in the world and then to respond to God in faith. This does not come naturally to us and so God gives us gifts like Scripture, prayer, Christian fellowship, and worship to help train our ears, our eyes, and our hearts to be open to the signs of God's presence in the world and to learn how to trust what God is doing and to follow God's way.

One of the ways God helps us to develop listening ears is by giving us Scripture that comes to us as a story.

The Bible is not a systemized book of doctrine nor is it simply an instruction book on how to live a happy and moral life. Fundamentally the Bible is a story of God's salvation, and the way that God's Word is told, in the form of a story, is itself an important part of the truth that the Scriptures proclaim. When you listen to a story you enter into it and there's a possibility that your vision or understanding of the world and your life could be changed. As we listen to the stories of the Bible we are shaped by what we hear and are drawn into the action of God through history, discovering that we are part of the story - that we are on a journey following Jesus, sharing in ministry and traveling toward the future God is preparing for us.

Lent is a time to practice being attentive to God's Word and a time to practice living in the truth of that Word. This year's Lenten worship on Wednesday evenings will focus on five stories of Jesus and will include a visual depiction of each Gospel story that might help us to see and hear God's Word in new ways. You are invited to come and see and listen.

During the days of Lent may the Spirit help train our hearts to look and listen for the signs of God and with those signs help us to believe that Jesus is God's Messiah - and that through believing, as John's Gospel puts it, we may have life in Christ's name.

Shared Ministry

In January the 2010 Time and Talent Sheets were distributed. If you did not receive a Time and Talent Sheet please let me know and I'll make sure you get one. If you have yet to turn your Time and Talent Sheet in please feel free to drop it off at the church office.

For those of you unfamiliar or uncertain about how the Time and Talent Sheets are used allow me to give a brief explanation. I use the information on them to gain a better understanding of what ministries you are interested in and what gifts and abilities you have to offer the greater body. As ministry opportunities arise I then contact those of you who have indicated an interest or ability in that ministry area and invite you to participate. Some of the opportunities are occasional and some are ongoing and some arise more than others.

For those of you who filled out the 2009 Time and Talent Sheet I hope you feel as though the information you gave me was used well. If you have suggestions on how this might improve I'd be more than happy to hear them. With a congregation of our size one of my greatest challenges is getting to know members of the congregation well enough to know what gifts you might have and in what areas you might like to serve. The Time and Talent Sheets help me gain this understanding but my goal continues to be to know more of you personally and to invite you to ministry from that knowledge.

The joy of working in Shared Ministry comes when members of our congregation take advantage of opportunities to serve our own community as well as our greater community. I am aware of the many things that vie for our time and attention and how difficult it can be to find space in our lives for another task. Yet opportunities for service are not simply additional tasks to be completed and as we participate in them we come to know first hand the unique sense of accomplishment and joy when we serve others out of the gifts we've been given and in the name of Christ.

I hope you'll consider the many opportunities that will arise in the coming year as invitations to further the work of God in the world and I trust that as we strive to extend God's love we'll find ourselves more aware of the love God extends to us.

Visit to Our Partner Congregation, Iambi Lutheran, Tanzania

A report by Jane Rinehart.

On October 11, 2009, I had the privilege of worshipping with our partner congregation, Iambi Lutheran, in the Central Diocese of Tanzania. During the worship, I brought greetings from our church and presented the congregation with a Bible that has parallel translations in Swahili and English. I brought a second identical Bible back to St. John's, and it is now in our church library. The Bibles are a symbol of our partnership; as the words of scripture are side by side on the pages, so do we walk side by side with our new partner congregation. I told them about the well project that St. John's is funding for the Iambi Secondary School, and this was received with applause. The Iambi Church gave me gifts to bring back to St. John's: katanga's (colorful fabric) for each of our pastors to be sewn into shirts, and a kanga (fabric with a border and a message) for our pastor's wife. After the worship service the church leaders and I went to the pastor's house for a dinner. I was given more gifts, three hand woven placards. These placards are now on our mission bulletin board in the Commons, and have the words, "In Christ We Are One," "Partnership Iambi + St. John's Luth. Church," and "Iramba District + Northern Field."

The Iambi pastor also brought out the packet St. John's had sent last May. We held up the "Extending God's Love" banner, and I described how banners are used in our church. We looked at the pictures in the photo directory, and I told them about our choirs, youth groups and other groups pictured. The church evangelist, who had preached for the church service, asked that St. John's pray for them, and said he would like it if we sent a volunteer to stay longer to teach them more about our programs. I asked for their prayers, as well, and told them that their church is often in the Sunday morning prayers at St. John's.

Thank You from Tanzanian Students

Thanks to all who donated to the Tanzanian Scholarship Fund, which was part of the Christmas Giving Tree in December. A total of $2,820 was donated. These funds will be sent to our Companion Synod in Tanzania, for scholarships for students who attend the Lutheran Seminary at Kiomboi, or one of the three Lutheran secondary schools in the diocese, located at Iambi, Ihanja, and Kijota.

The cost per student at the seminary is $2,000 per year, and the cost per student at the secondary schools is $525. One of the past scholarship recipients sent this message:

"I thank God to have this chance to say thank you for choosing me to be one among few recipients. . . I sincerely promise to use this chance to study hard and acquire knowledge which will help me to build good foundation of my future . . . Convey my special regard to all people who participate in one way or another to make this sponsor possible. May God bless."

What do the debates about the U.S. health care system mean for you and your “neighbor”? Health care issues have dominated Congress recently, and hovered over the country for decades. The February meeting of the Peace and Justice Group will be a lively and valuable conversation about what we can expect from any new health care legislation.

If a health care bill is passed by then, we will look at what it says, includes, and leaves out. Our focus on a bill that is passed will be to see how we can all come together to make the most of what it provides rather than to continue the debates, how we can support health care for the common good, in Northfield, in Minnesota, in the country.

Whether or not a bill has been passed by Feb. 8, our conversation will include sharing our experiences under the system or systems we have known and some reflection on how we regard health care. Is it a human right or something only for those who can pay for it? Is it a service of our society like law enforcement, fire protection, roads? Where do insurance companies fit?

The idea is to hear from different perspectives: users of the system, medical professionals, insurance providers, and employers. Come confident that you can voice your hopes and concerns, knowing that they will be heard and respected.

Everyone who is interested is invited to come and participate. Bring friends who may not come regularly. If you have any questions please be in touch with Judith Stoutland at 645-7842.

Bridging the Gap: Making Work Pay

Low-income US workers are struggling. Rent, child care, transportation and utilities are fixed expenses, so food is one place struggling families will cut corners.

The Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) is one program we have that helps bridge the gap. Bread for the World offers the strength of many voices combined to advocate to protect and strengthen the programs which will help bridge the gap. You can learn more about the program at the workshops listed below.

In addition to an overview of poverty in Minnesota by Nancy Maeker, Director of A Minnesota without Poverty by 2020, there will be a panel by low income Minnesotans, plus advocacy and legislation strategies.

If you can't go to a workshop, you can learn more about the program of advocacy and join in writing letters at any time. We will also have a special day of making an Offering of Letters this spring.

Thank You from the CAC

In December, St. John's members donated gifts for 200 children in Northfield. Here is a portion of the December 21, 2009 letter from Community Action Center:

"This year 889 children from 374 families that live in the Northfield School District received gifts [through the CAC Christmas Sharing program]. Many of these families are dealing with job loss or work at low-paying, often part-time jobs. The down turn in the economy has affected many people living in our community: forcing families to make difficult choices and requests for assistance have risen dramatically. Thank you for helping all the families who will experience the warmth and generosity of the Northfield community. Thank you for taking the opportunity to give a part of yourself this holiday season."

Update from Marv and Jean

Thus begins our last "official" newsletter. As of Jan. 2010 we will have ended our wonderful time with the right to claim the title of 'Lutheran missionaries in Africa.' ...In Jan. there will be the Form VI graduation, in Feb. the same girls take their National Exams. We won't be here to see their results. We know some will qualify for university. Their futures will now be guided by Operation Bootstrap Africa (OBA) and the competent and caring teachers on the MGLSS Career Committee. There are sixteen girls graduating from out of an original class of 63, a remarkably high percentage for Tanzania. Fifty-seven went through Form IV and 22 qualified to begin Form V. For this graduation, OBA will be bringing a group of 13 to meet with MGLSS staff and Diocese officials. Pray for God's guidance and wisdom in all these encounter that solutions can be found for the challenges facing the school in 2010, especially that a new bursar and librarian can be in place soon. The needs continue.

In our twelve years here (we came when the first class to begin studies at MGLSS was in Form III) there have been about 750 students, of whom 397 graduated from Form IV, 130 graduated from Form VI, 39 graduated from university, 137 graduated from other post-MGLSS programs (think nurses, teachers, etc.) and 64 who are currently in advanced education somewhere in Tanzania. Remember, in 1995 when this school opened, there were only 24 Maasai girls in secondary education throughout the whole country. Thank you for sharing your prayers and resources to help make all this happen.

When we arrived in Tanzania there were no Alcoholic Anonymous groups in the country. Marv organized a group in the Arusha area soon after his arrival and now there are AA meetings from Lake Victoria to Tanga on the coast and south to Mozambique. In America, when one person gets sober it positively affects nine people;

Providing small group study and fellowship opportunities

Small Groups Ministry

For where two or three are gathered in my name, I am there among them.

Grace Notes

A delightful story is told of a Yankee who, while traveling through a southern state, stopped at a café for breakfast. When the server set his order in front of him, he looked at a white mound of something on his plate and, inquiring what it was, the server told him it was grits. "But I didn't order grits," he declared, to which the server replied, "Sir, you don't order grits, they just come."

That is what grace is like...we don't order it...it just comes! Grace comes when we hear words of care and concern. Grace comes when we receive deeds of kindness and compassion. God's grace and blessings surround us every day. Physician and writer Rachel Naomi Remen relates the story of a patient who had an image of all of us being circled by our blessings, like airplanes in a holding pattern at an airport, waiting for a place to land.

Among the ministries by which we are being graced at St. John's, small group settings often are landing places where God's blessings are received. If you are looking for a place to connect and belong in a meaningful way, consider one of the small groups listed on the side bar of this page. A catalog, with a brief description of each group, is available at the Small Group bulletin board display in the Commons area.

Young Professionals' Book Study Group

A new small group, meets the 2nd and 4th Friday evenings for fellowship, discussion, and refreshments. The group is just beginning a new book, A Generous Orthodoxy, by Brian McLaren. McLaren, pastor of Cedar Ridge Community Church in Spencerville, Md, is a proponent of the emergent church movement. This book discusses Christian faith that combines liberal and conservative, contemplative and charismatic, and the systematic and mystical to form "a Christianity which will embrace the good in many traditions and historic streams of Christian faith and integrate them." (Jeremy Rein, reviewer).

in Tanzania that number is forty-five. It is probable that AA will have an effect on Tanzania equal to the impact of the education of the Maasai women but without the headlines.

Now, share in the joy and rejoice with us, true partners in mission! Mungu asafiwe! God be praised! We begin 2010 with praise and thanksgiving in our hearts for all God has done! We also begin by asking for the Spirit's help in: helping us show grace-filled closure of all sorts, wisdom in the sorting and packing process, energy and clarity in the training and position transitions, and God's manifestation in all of us during the Epiphany Season.

Thank you for all your support over these many years.
