Call Committee Prepares for Candidate Interviews

The Call Committee spent the past 2 ½ months reviewing data, gathering information, seeking input and discussing the status of St. John's and our congregation. This culminated in completion of a revised Ministry Site Profile. The MSP was approved by Council on May 14 and sent to our Synod the next day.

The Synod makes our Profile information available to all interested and congregation-nominated Sr. Pastor candidates to help them better understand our church, its hopes and its needs. Candidates use the information, in part, to help discern whether to be considered for call to St. John's.

As of mid-May, a total of 23 congregation-nominated candidates had been sent to the Synod for processing. Thank you to all who made submissions!

The Committee is currently preparing for the first round of candidate interviews. These will begin once we receive and screen candidate information that the Synod sends us. We ask for prayers for St. John's and patience on the part of the congregation as we continue our work.

Rhubarb Sunday is June 9!

It's time to cut the rhubarb, search for your special rhubarb recipe, and whip it up...and bring it to St. John's for Rhubarb Sunday on June 9. Whether you bring a rhubarb dessert or not, everyone is welcome to enjoy all the delicious creations between services in St. John's Hall. If you can bring a rhubarb dessert please sign up in the Commons. We need 25 people to bring a dessert of their choice on Saturday, June 8 or before the first service on June 9. Questions? Call Guy Reid (645-7984) or the church office. (If you'd like to bake a dessert but need some rhubarb, please stop by the church on Friday, June 7, and there will be rhubarb available at the Welcome Desk.)

Those Who Give Care to Our Congregation

The principal task of Stephen Ministers, in giving care to someone going through a difficult passage, is to listen patiently without judging or advising. That is the way we have been taught to bring Christ's love to our neighbor, one by one. The Stephen Ministry is an extension of pastoral ministry, which is something all our pastors do, and it is through the pastors that most of our referrals come.

In our congregation there are many other groups and individuals whose purpose is to bring care to the neighbor in a wide variety of ways. In a May meeting sponsored by Stephen Ministers, a panel of representatives from such groups described the care they each offer, partly to give information and partly to determine the gaps, the places where we as a congregation need to extend ourselves further.

The following groups were represented in that panel: Mark Johnson, Pastoral Care; John Quam, Visitation Pastor and St. John's Visitors; Stephen Ministers, Jennifer Edwins; Parish Nurse, Lynette Marks; Funeral Lunches, Jane Gelle; Grief Support Groups, Barbara Knaak; Flower Ministry, Corrine and Elvin Heiberg;

Prayer Chain, Mary Cisar; Healing Prayer Group, Richard Beckman; and Melissa Berthelson for a new group now forming to provide meals to people facing a health crisis, called the Congregational Care Committee.

Most people represented above give care that is quiet and invisible in the life of the congregation, care addressed to individuals and families. It is important for us as a congregation to give thanks and pray for this work, for those who give care and for those who receive it.

If you or someone you know might benefit from meeting with a patient listener who will not judge or advise, call one of the pastors (645-4429) or Joan Halvorson (645-8445).

Blessed are they who mourn, for they shall be comforted.

Matthew 5:4

Grief Support Ministry

Northfield Grief Support Coalition: A grief support group meets this month at the First United Church of Christ on Tuesdays from 6:30-8:30 p.m. through June 25. Contact Amanda Pettis for more information, 651-210-2290.

Grief Care Resource: Care Notes are one of the grief support resources at St. John's. Stop by the Commons to pick one up for yourself or for a loved one.

The following St. John's members died in this month last year. We list them so that we can remember these loved ones and their families in prayer "with reverence and affection."

1 Thessalonians
5:9,11

This spring the children and youth of St. John's have helped to lead us in worship, fellowship, and outreach. In March, Fourth and Fifth Graders called us to be heroes in the fight against hunger as we raised funds for the Community Action Center Food Shelf. The congregation responded by exceeding the goal – donating over $12,000. At the end of April, Sunday School students shared with the congregation what they learned this past year about the fight against malaria and told about their contributions to the ELCA malaria campaign. Did you see all the “squashed” mosquitoes? Congregation members joined in the fight and over $1000 was raised to fight this disease on behalf of our neighbors in Africa, Asia, and South America. Third Graders and families shared their Holy Communion projects with the congregation. Ninth graders led a scavenger hunt for the “DOG” kids and taught a dance to Kindergartners and First Graders. In May congregation members were invited along on Paul's journeys during the Sunday morning fellowship time. There was music, games, crafts, and cake. Members of Alleluia, Hossana, Jubilate, Laudate, and chime choirs helped to lead worship throughout the past year. On June 9 we celebrate with our graduating seniors and remember God's blessing for them in all that lies ahead.

Alongside these youth and children there are parents, Sunday School teachers, choir directors, mentors, staff, and other adults who teach and encourage these young followers of Jesus at St. John's. This work of encouragement is an important part of our life together as disciples of Christ. Kenda Creasy Dean and Ron Foster write in The Godbearing Life, “If faith is the gift of the Holy Spirit (Eph.2:8-9) – if faith ultimately comes in God's time and in God's way to each of us-then...[the job of Sunday School teachers, choir directors, mentors, pastors etc.] is to practice midwifery...to attend to the birth of faith...[by] observing, reassuring, providing comfort and wisdom...Midwives know the struggle is worth the effort, and they encourage us to see it through.” (p. 163)

While parents and teachers and other adults have special roles in encouraging faith it's also clear, from the examples listed above, that children and youth have gifts to share and encouragement to give to the rest of the congregation. The children's choir musical this past spring told that story. “Table for Five Thousand” tells the story of Benjamin who wants to go with his older brothers and sisters and their friends to see Jesus. Benjamin asks, “Can I go with you?” The older kids answer, “No! You're too young, you're too small, you don't fit our plans at all. When we go to meet the master, bringing you would be disaster.”

Benjamin decides to go see Jesus by himself and he brings a little lunch in case he gets hungry. When Jesus and the disciples need food to share with the large crowd that day Benjamin offers what he has and Jesus uses it to provide for everyone. (see John 6:1-14) In the last song of the musical the choir sings, “Those who seem to be the weakest are the greatest in God's eyes. Little hands we lift in service can touch the skies. When we give away our treasure, when we sacrifice our lives, when we lose our hearts to Jesus, love multiplies.” (Table for Five Thousand”, Tom S. Long, Allen Pote)

Encouraging one another in faith is an important part of our life together at St. John's - for both young and old. As God's Spirit moves in our lives, faith is born and through the care we show one another and through the “little hands we lift in service” we see how God's love is multiplied among us, extending out into our community, and around the world. Thanks be to God for calling us in Christ to share this life of faith together. Thank you members of St. John's – young and old and everyone in-between – for living out that call to love and care in Christ's name.

Music and Woship Life at St. John's

From the Organ Bench...

Long time St. John's member, Gordon Rasmussen, now a member of the heavenly chorus, once told me a story about hymnbooks. As a young seminary student he encountered a respected faculty member, explained that he was attempting to build a solid library of books on theology and the faith on a very limited budget and asked what books he should purchase first. "First, get a hymnal," was his mentor's response.

The hymnal is a treasury of paraphrased scripture, Psalms and a source of theologically sound, faith-filled reflections on the nature of our faith, a source of inspiration and comfort. Much research has concluded that ideas set to music ground themselves much more deeply in our hearts and minds than words alone. Perhaps this is why for many, the last way to make contact with an elderly dementia patient is through the singing of beloved songs.

With these ideas in mind, the Worship and Arts Board has proposed that the church program year 2013-2014 include a specific focus upon a core group of hymns that all Christians should know and be able to share. We will be forming this list over the summer and invite you to help us. Think a bit – what are say 10 hymns that have proven significant for you and your life of faith? Our only qualifier is that they be in our red hymnal, Evangelical Lutheran Worship. Send titles and ELW numbers to me via email (ferg@stolaf.edu) and they will be considered for our list. Your responses will inform our selection of hymns for worship as well.

Perhaps some of your recommendations will be Christmas hymns and carols, songs no longer sung in the schools. If our children are to learn them, God's people must teach them. Perhaps some will NOT be our sentimental favorites but rather sturdy texts proclaiming basic tenants of the faith set to sturdy tunes that have endured the tests of time. Some should be ethnic hymns reflecting the important truth that Christianity is not anyone's personal property but God's gift to the entire world. Perhaps some will be texts and tunes that we will want to sing as we gather 'round a bed in the Alzheimer's unit.

As I write these words, I realize that it will be hard to narrow the list to a mere ten! But I'll try and look forward to your suggestions. In addition to the hymn number and title, please feel free to share thoughts or stories that help to explain your choices.

Thanks, and have a great summer.

Mission Outreach

Olivia Riggins to visit Tanzania with Synod Youth Trip

St. John's member Olivia Riggins will travel to the Tanzania this July visiting the Central Dioceses – a companion synod with the Southeastern Minnesota Synod. Olivia is the daughter of Dan Riggins and Catherine Dominguez. Keep Olivia and the group in your prayers, along with all those whom they will meet during their travels. St. John's is providing some financial support for Olivia's trip. Olivia wrote the following description of her trip for this edition of the Voice:

I will be going to Tanzania this summer. I'm going with the Youth Servant Leader Institute (YSLI) to Singida, one of the Tanzanian provinces. Before going, our YSLI group will be learning about leadership, the theology of missions, community building, and cross-cultural sensitivity through a series of workshops. These will prepare us for meeting a partner group of Tanzanian young adults and chaperones and working with them to share language, music, and customs while creating skits and activities for a Bible camp-style program. After building the program, we'll travel through Singida province for three days, implementing the day camp activities in three different villages.

St. John's Benevolence Support Neighbors Around the World

St. John's extends God's love in a variety of ways. In May, the Benevolence and Social Concerns (BSC) Board designated $500 to help congregation evangelists in the Central Diocese of the Lutheran Church in Tanzania to receive continuing education. Evangelists are lay leaders who are the primary spiritual caregivers and outreach coordinators for the smaller preaching posts or sub-congregations which are connected to larger congregations in the diocese. $100 pays for one evangelist per year to attend a six-week training session. The St. John's gift will allow evangelists at Iambi Lutheran Church, our partner congregation, along with evangelists from other congregations to attend the education course in 2013.

The BSC Board also approved a gift of $375 to Mwangaza, an organization started by former St. John's member Shoonie Hartwig, that supports Lutheran congregations in Tanzania and their communities through education, health care, and family and faith training programs. In 2012 Mwangaza sponsored a Literacy Immersion program at Iambi Secondary School. The program included teacher training, lesson plan development, and contextual reading materials (mini books), and a resource inventory. The funds given by St. John's will enable Mwangaza to provide follow-up evaluation to help the long term success of the education seminar.

News and Events

Something to think about over the summer!

For children to feel connected to their church, it's important for them to build relationships with at least 5 adults, other than their parents. With that in mind, please consider how you can help with Children's programming in September by volunteering with Sunday School or Wednesday afternoon programming. We need volunteers to teach and/or help with a variety of activities. If you are interested, please talk with Julie Brehmer or check out the volunteer opportunities in the Sunday School registration packet. P.S.: High School students – talk with me how you can connect with our younger kids on Sundays and Wednesdays!

Wake, Walk and Talk!

You've been thinking about walking and getting out more, right? So why not join our group? You'll have a fun time forming friendships and getting in shape at the same time, with the support and encouragement of other women.

We will meet every Saturday morning at St. John's at 7:30 a.m. starting on Saturday, June 8. Our walk will end at one of our local coffee houses. This is a perfect way to have some fun while we get in shape, start new exercise routines, and experience better health and vitality outdoors with friends.

Weather Advisory: If there is rain in the forecast (other than a mist) consider the Wake, Walk and Talk canceled. Please call Julie Brehmer if you have any questions, 645-4429.

Sunday School Offering

Thank you to our Sunday School children and their families for giving to the Sunday School offering missions this year. Offering was given to provide support for the following:

- Our Compassion International child, Romario Vasquez Polo, from Bocachica, Columbia. Our $38/month sponsorship provides Romario with Bible teaching, medical care, nutritious meals, recreational activities, academic support, educational classes and literacy training.
- $500 was given to support the ELCA Malaria Campaign to purchase mosquito nets for countries in Africa. With the congregation's contributions, we will be sending a check totaling over $1,000! Thanks so much for your donations.

Celebrating the Sacrament of Holy Baptism

Parents who wish to have their baby or child baptized at St. John's are asked to attend a preparation session to discuss the meaning of baptism and to talk about the details of the day. Baptism preparation is held on the first Saturday of each month in the Fireside Room. The next sessions are Saturday, June 1, and July 6 at 10:30 a.m. Please call the Church Office if you plan to attend.

Children & Communion

Holy Communion is the meal of all the baptized children of God. If your baptized child has expressed an interest in receiving Holy Communion, please contact a pastor. Preparation for children and parents is provided on an individual basis.

Treasurers Update

I am pleased once again to offer you the following update on our success in meeting our budgeted envelope offering income. In the month of March, 2013, we received $65,895 in envelope offerings. Given a budgeted goal of $760,000 for the year, we should be averaging $63,333 per month in envelope contributions. This means that our March offering was $2,562 more than budgeted. Added to our past successes, our first quarter ended with envelope offerings one-quarter (25.8 percent, to be more precise) of the way to our targeted goal.

These envelope offerings are counted each and every Sunday by a team of volunteers, whose reliability and professionalism is simply unparalleled, and who create a vital link between the congregation's offerings and the church's financial resources. St. John's members who assisted in the first quarter counting effort include

Brent Bash, Amy Boxrud, Sue Brockman, Dick Dahlin, Jim Enestvedt, Dan Franklin, Bob Gelle, Kasia Gonnerman, Dean Ostlie, LaVerne Reitz, Otto Reitz, Mark Ulmer, Elden Zempel, and Solveig Zempel

As we approach the summer months and the promise of a weekend or two at the cabin, we could use some help. If you are able to join our ranks on the occasional Sunday, or on a regular basis, please call me at 507-645-9628.

Thank you for all the ways you support the efforts of this congregation and its mission in the community and the world.

Turning to the Psalms

By Barbara Eaves

There was a slogan in the military, "When in doubt, salute." While struggling to settle on a topic for this month's article, the thought finally came to mind, "When in doubt turn to the Psalms." In so doing, I turned to a favorite: Psalm 121.

*I lift up my eyes to the hills—
from where will my help come?
My help comes from the Lord,
who made heaven and earth.*

This psalm is one in a group of 15 psalms called Songs of Ascents which very likely were used for groups going up to Jerusalem for one of the festivals. These psalms, often referred to as "pilgrimage psalms," frequently dealt with issues of everyday life.

Psalm 121 is about leaving on a journey with concerns about safe travel and protection from illness and harm and then moves to assurances that the God of all creation also is a God who is ever with us. The psalmist is continually reminded that God is "your keeper."

And then the psalm concludes by moving from a particular situation to the broader understanding that God is our keeper throughout all of our days.

*The Lord will keep you from all evil;
he will keep your life.
The Lord will keep your going out and your coming in from this time on and forevermore.*

Although this psalm was written for a time of farewell, it also can serve as a reminder that all of life is a journey. Whether our days are filled with perils or pleasures, doubts or certainties, God's presence continues to surround and sustain us with grace and mercy. Martin Luther called this psalm a "Psalm of Comfort" as it reminds us that "God is surely awake and watching over us...Eventually we will learn that, if we can only hold fast."

When in doubt, turn to the Psalms....a practice which can bless us any day.

*I'm going on a journey, and I'm starting today.
My head is wet, and I'm on my way.
Christ's mark is on me; it's on you, too;
it says he loves me, and he loves you too!*

DID YOU KNOW?

This logo that is displayed on the WELCA website and on printed materials used by WELCA organizations throughout the United States was conceived and designed by our own Judy Swanson for the constituting convention of Women of the ELCA twenty five years ago! Thank you, Judy!

What does our logo mean? Our logo—with the cross, water and a white lily—identifies women of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America as children of God; baptized, forgiven, adopted into God's family, full of grace and hope in eternal life. It is a reminder of the growth, beauty, and vitality that rises out of that life-giving baptismal water. It is also a reminder of the mission of the church to "Go, therefore, make disciples of all nations; baptize them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit" (Matthew 28:19).
